		as may be required by the party who gets right in the said property. The defendant has also agreed to make a provision for his daughter, Ms. Natasha, and has agreed that the total provision to be made would be Rs.10 lakh including the marriage expenses for the daughter apart from whatever else he may give to her out of his love and affection. Out of this amount of Rs.10 lakh, an immediate provision for Rs.5 lakh would be made for the benefit of the daughter. The FDRs lying with the defendant whether in the joint names with the plaintiff or his daughter shall be used for the said purpose and the deficiency shall be made up by the defendant. It is made clear that if there are any FDRs in the custody of the plaintiff which are still subsisting or which have been encashed the same shall not form part of this provision made by the defendant of Rs.5 lakh. The further provision of Rs.5 lakh shall be made by the defendant for the marriage of his daughter at least one month before said marriage on the plaintiff informing the defendant about the same. The parties have agreed to file a petition for divorce by mutual consent before the competent court and shall cooperate in respect of the same. The plaintiff has also agreed to cooperate with the defendant for seeking quashing of all criminal proceedings.
